The democratic nominee is Maurice Dantin and the Republican choice is Thad Cochran with Independents Charles Evers and Henry J. Kirskey seeking to fill Eastland's post.

On the Coastal scene will be the Democratic nominee Kosta N. Vlahos against Republican Jim W. Rose seeking the position of Circuit Judge, place three in the second district.

The residents of the Hancock County School District must consider a bond issue for building a new high school in South Hancock and additions to Hancock North Central. School Board incumbent Johnny G. Banks is opposed by Harold F. Necaise for District Five post.

Smoke damages McDonald's

By RICH ADAMS

An early morning fire Thursday at the W. A. McDonald Furniture Showroom in Bay St. Louis was contained by Bay firemen before the blaze became a major fire.

Bay St. Louis Assistant Fire Chief Andrew Lizana and Fireman Don San Filippo arrived at the fire scene on the corner of Main St. and Second Street after a call reporting the fire was received from a McDonald employee, said Lizana.

The small fire erupted in the rear of the store and was contained before the flames could spread to the merchandise in the showroom.

"The fire was confined. We got there in time, and kept it contained. Most of the merchandise sustained minor smoke damage," Lizana reported.

Lizana said no estimate on damage or cause of the fire has been determined. James McDonald said the showroom is scheduled to reopen for business Monday.

Bank's Gulfport office building plans delayed

Officials of Hancock Bank, in a report to stockholders, said the bank has encountered a delay until April, 1979, in plans to develop a new headquarters building in downtown Gulfport.

Hancock Bank's Donald E. Sutter, chairman; T.W. Milner, Jr., vice chairman; and Leo Seal Jr., president, said the bank's building program is being delayed due to an announcement that federal funding of a public parking garage will not be forthcoming until March of next year.

Following is the text of the bank's report to its stockholders:

"As you know, our Board of Directors concluded last year that the Bank's growth has necessitated a new headquarters building. The Board envisioned a high-rise bank-office complex which would not only solve our space needs but might also lead to the revitalization of the downtown Gulfport area.

"We met with the City Council to discuss the project and proposed a 200,000 square foot building adjoining our present site with a street level mini-mall for retail shops and the top half of the building for outside tenants. They agreed that more public parking facilities were absolutely essential if the full plans were to be carried out.

"The city fathers, realizing the impact such a structure would have in the downtown area, engaged consultants to study a plan for increased public parking facilities and sources of construction funds.

"It was learned that a Federal program designed to help restore the 'core city' area was available provided private enterprise was also willing to

North Bay supply theft Police reports missing

By RICH ADAMS

A Bay St. Louis police official said police complaint reports of an August supply theft at North Bay Elementary cannot be located.

North Bay Principal Billy Sills said he reported the theft, estimated at $2,000 worth of supplies, to the Bay Police on about the middle of September after the theft was discovered.

Bay Police Recorder Alvin Favre said he called Sills to get information on the date of the theft after he received a call informing him of the crime.

Favre said he has purged report and complaint records and cannot find anything concerning the theft at the school.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson said the sheriff's department never received a report of the alleged theft.

The supplies, received on August 7 and stored in the North Bay cafeteria, were stolen between August 7-14, Sills reported at a Parent-Teacher Organization meeting on October 12. Sills said he was on vacation when the supplies were delivered to the school.

He said a secretary at the school signed for the supplies and had the classroom materials stored in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria was being renovated, and the Plaquemine Construction Company of New Orleans had reportedly taken the doors off frames leaving the supplies in the open, Sills reported.

The theft was discovered three weeks after school began this year, and Sills said he reported the theft to the Bay St. Louis Police.

At the October PTO meeting, Bay Schools Superintendent J. D. McCullough said the supplies would be covered by the school's theft insurance or the construction company's bonding agent.

McCullough told Sills to reorder the supplies from Jackson, using the school's credit, and pay the school back when insurance money was received.

Ames Kergosien, an insurance agent at Kergosien and Son Realty and Insurance in Bay St. Louis said North Bay's insurance policy does not cover the theft.

"McCullough said at the PTO meeting a $42,000 insurance policy would cover the theft. I asked him if he was sure, and McCullough said yes," Kergosien said.

"I checked it out, and there is no theft insurance. There is no way the monies can be recovered," said Kergosien.

"As far as I'm concerned, this is a huge issue. The PTO should stop spinning its wheels and get new supplies. They shouldn't worry about why the supplies were not insured, these children need those supplies," Kergosien added.

McCullough would not comment on the matter, saying Sills was the man to talk to concerning the theft.

"I got a letter from the insurance company today, and I'll give the letter to the school's lawyer and insurance agent. I'll have to talk with the construction company...they left the doors

One-car accident serious to driver

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

A 27-year-old Bay St. Louis man suffered severe neck injuries after his car smashed into an oak tree on North Beach Blvd. Friday near Bay View Court at 12:08 a.m., reported Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams. James (Jimbo) Morlan, 27, 108 Chartres Dr., owner of Dunbar Package L. or Store is in fair condition and is suffering severe neck injuries at Gulfport Memorial Hospital, said hospital Public Relations Director Ada Reed.

"Patrolman Louie Hearty found Morlan partially within the car," said Chief Williams.

"Morlan traveling north on North Beach Blvd. collided into an oak tree between Ulman Street Pier and the Bay Bridge, flipped over and then skidded into Alden Mauffray's yard from where Mobil Medic took him to Hancock General Hospital," stated Chief Williams.

"He was later taken to Gulfport Memorial Hospital," added the Chief. "I do not know what caused the accident," continued Chief Williams, "but I assume he lost control of the car."

"Other cars have hit this same tree," recalled the Chief. "I even remember a similar accident a couple of years ago in which this same tree was hit."

Beyond the children

Beyond the welfare of Hancock County children, voters here can look to economic considerations and find further justification for approving the School Board's proposed $3.4 million capital improvements bond issue.

It will be the property owners of the county who will carry the additional tax burden to be imposed if the bond issue is approved, whether or not they have children in the public schools.

But it will be these same property owners who are sure to benefit from increased property values in Hancock County once the dilemma of our overcrowded schools is solved.

Prospective new residents in Hancock County have in the past turned away and selected homes in other counties or in Louisiana because the school situation here is unacceptable to them.

Any realtor in this county will tell you property values are bound to increase significantly with a significant growth in the county's population, a certainty if we can offer our prospective new residents adequate school facilities.

Opinions/Ellis Cuevas

Who will vote Tuesday?

-The residents of Hancock County interested in electing a new state senator to fill the important position of the retiring veteran senator Jim Eastland.

-The voters of Hancock County in favor of electing a Circuit Court Judge for Place Three in the second district.

-The residents of the Hancock County School District in favor of giving a better education to their children.

-Residents of that school district interested in who sits on the district's Board of Trustees.

-The voters of Waveland who wish to say, "I helped elect our city officials."

So it is important for all the residents of Hancock County to get out and cast their ballots Tuesday.

Voting is an opportunity for us by the Constitution. We seem to always hear from the ones who don't vote complaining about what our political leaders do or do not do. Yet they make no effort to elect leaders to positions in which they may, in some instances, be able to do a better job.

It is important to vote Tuesday. Call your relatives and neighbors and remind them to vote.

Let's make Hancock County the leading county in Mississippi for voter turnout on this very important election day.

See you at the polls.

The best job ever

The condition of the Cedar Rest Cemetery for All Saints day was the best we have seen in many a year.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett and Utilities Superintendent Bill Johnston should be congratulated on a job well done.

City workers were at the Cemetery at 6 a.m. on All Saints picking up trash left the night before and throughout the day picking up more trash as it was accumulated by those visiting the graves of their dead.

St. Mary's Cemetery was also in fine shape with the city workmen removing trash as fast as it was piled up.

The new walk way, flag pole and restoration of the old water trough, an idea of Mayor Bennett's, is a fine city endeavour, and big improvement to the entrance of Cedar Rest.

Hats off to the mayor, superintendent and all the city workers for their best effort ever.

WATER IN VERY DRY WEATHER-Water is viewed by Mayor Larry Bennett, right, and Councilman Harry Favre Thursday in ditch along the 500 block of Sycamore Street. Approved Monday is a Housing and Urban Development Small Cities Program grant of $227,000 for sewerage and water on the 500 blocks of Sycamore, Keller and Washington Streets. The funds will eliminate water appearing constantly in open ditches, says Mayor Bennett. Residents of the areas complain of foul odors and health hazards during the summer months because of raw sewage being run into the open ditches. Ronnie Murray, Gulf Regional Planning Commission, applied for the grant for the City. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas).

Bank office...

spend money in the same geographical location.

"The city, accordingly, submitted an application for funds sufficient to not only build a 400-plus car garage, but also for significant other improvements to the downtown area.

"As is the case in most Federal funding to cities, there is considerable information needed, and very stringent guidelines and time-tables to follow. It appears that the case is no exception and city officials have been advised that it would be March of 1979 before this project could be funded, if it qualifies.

"This presents a problem; Gulfport's plans for a public parking garage and the Bank's expanded building plans are inseparable. We simply cannot construct the structure outlined above unless increased parking facilities are available for the public.

"In light of this, your Board has made the decision to delay moving forward with the project until the city receives notice of the outcome of its application, even though this may mean a delay until April, 1979.

"In the event the city is unable to provide the public with more downtown parking space, we will have to drastically alter the scope of the proposed structure, for the non-Bank additions cannot be built unless public parking spaces area at least doubled over the present number.

"Finally, let us make it expressly clear that no Federal funds, whatsoever, will be used in connection with the Hancock Bank's building and, if the parking garage is built, it will be owned and operated by the city and the Bank will have no claims on space, nor privileges in it, that the rest of the public does not also have."

Greg Ladner adds 198 yards

Hawks steal victory from Poplarville

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Coach Irvin Favre's Hancock North Central Hawks put together a drive in the waning minutes to defeat arch-rival Poplarville 29-27 Friday, in Poplarville.

The sturdy foot of Jesse Draime pushed through a 32 yard field goal with only 1:13 remaining in the game to give the Hawks the two point edge. The drive was for 44 yards after Poplarville had moved ahead of the Hawks for a third time in the game on a dramatic kick-off return by the Hornets Stephen Fairley giving the Hawks a 27-26 lead over the Hawks.

"The game was what you call a barn burner, a see-saw battle. Our players never quit, it was an action packed contest from the beginning to the end," Favre said.

Poplarville was the first to score in the first quarter when quarterback Kenny Lee ran two yards for a touchdown, giving them a 6-0 lead as the extra point failed.

The Hawks put two TD's on the score board in the second quarter on 40 and 16 yard runs by halfback Greg Ladner. Ladner added another 198 yards on five carries to his over a 1000 yards this season. Draime kicked the first point after but the Hawks tried for two after the second TD and missed.

Poplarville came back before the first half ended and scored on a Johnny Holston 28 yard run and Paul Milner tied the score at 13-13 which was the halftime score.

The Hornets pulled ahead of the Hawks in the third quarter on a Oliver Silas five yard run and the extra point by Milner was good giving Poplarville a 20-13 margin. The Hawks Vincent Adams came back and tied the score from eight yards out and Draime's kick was good, tying the score again.

Greg Ladner turned passer taking a pitch from Adams on an option passed to Adams for a five yard score. The PAT was missed giving the Hawks a 26-20 edge until the 69 yard score by Fairley and a PAT gave the Hornets a 27-26 lead.

Favre in commenting about the Hornets play said, "After the game their coaches said it was their best effort of the season. They moved the ball against us and scored, but, we kept coming back."

"The field goal by Draime was no fluke, it was on the mark. We didn't quit after long TD against us. The ball was on our own 35 with about 3:30 left and we moved the ball, three passes were completed in the drive to set up the go ahead on the field goal. It was an action packed game from beginning to end, a spectator game, it was tense for the coaches all the way through, we stopped the Hornets with one second left when Robert Devaughn intercepted a pass," coach Favre added.

"Our defense was not good, we sure have to improve on it this week for our contest with Pass Christian. It will be tough contest because the Pirate game last season was really a contest like Poplarville was Friday," Favre commented.

Favre said the Hawks now 8-1 for the season has received a total of five post season bowl bids but the players will decide on the contest they want to participate in. Last season the Hawks played in the Pickle Bowl and the Wendall Ladner Bowl.

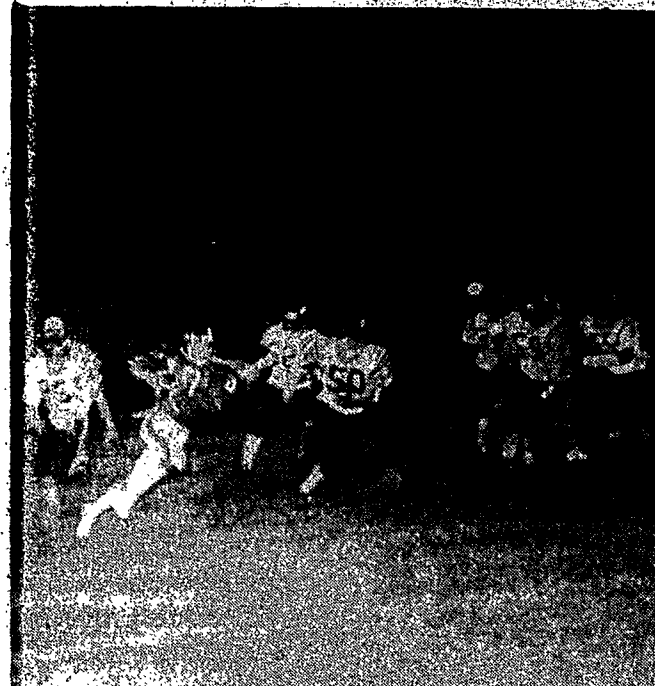

In total yardage the Hawks had 362 yards against the Hornets' 225 yards. The Hawks picked up 12 first downs to 7 for Poplarville.

The Hawks, 9-1 will play the Pickle Bowl bound Pass Christian Pirates, 7-2, in Hancock North Central stadium Friday.

STRETCH-Bearcat tight end Ronnie Ladner, No. 82, reaches for a pass from quarterback Jim Nightengale as Pirate Mackie Dedeaux, No. 22, prepares to knock the ball out of Ladner's hands. The pass was incomplete, and the Pirates registered a victory in the clash, 19-6. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

Senner, Rocks rumble over East Central, 28-8

By RICH ADAMS
St. Stanislaus fullback Scott Senner passed for one touchdown and ran 32 yards for another as he rushed for 106 yards in 13 carries to lead the Rocks to a 28-8 victory over the East Central Hornets Friday night.

The win gives the Rocks a 6-3 overall record and a 5-2 Pascagoula River Conference slate.

The Rocks stopped an East Central drive following the opening kickoff, forcing the Hornets to punt. The punt was fumbled by Rock's Juan Betanzos on the St. Stanislaus 46 yard line, and East Central recovered.

The Hornets could not move the ball, and the scoring threat was a 14-0 East Central punt.

St. Stanislaus took the ball on the next series of downs and moved 70 yards downfield, culminating with an eight yard toss to flanker Perre Cabell from Peter Bernheim to score.

Charles Armato's point after was good, giving the Rocks a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

East Central came back in the first period and scored on a nine yard touchdown pass from quarterback Les Parnell to David Riley.

The point after attempt was blocked by Rock-A-Chaw Mike Scardino, making the tally at the end of the first period 7-6.

Neither squad scored in the second period, and the half-time score remained 7-6.

In the third quarter, the Rocks led off with a 50 yard drive, culminating in a four yard romp by Cabell for a Stanislaus score.

Armato put another extra point through the uprights to give the Rocks a 14-6 lead.

East Central scored a safety on a controversial play involving a pass interception by Juan Betanzos.

Betanzos intercepted a long aerial following an East Central 50 yard drive on the 20 yard line, and his momentum reportedly carried him into the Hornet end zone.

The ball was downed, and the officials declared the play a safety, making the score 14-8.

Senner scored in the fourth quarter on a 32 yard run to bring the St. Stanislaus tally to 20-8. Armato kicked another PAT to add to the score.

A 35 yard flea-flicker from Bernheim to end Fred Keel set up the final Rock-A-Chaw field goal of the night to finish the game, 28-8. Senner took the next snap from center and passed from the 12 yard line to Keel to score.

Armato kicked his fourth field goal of the night to finish the game, 28-8. The Rocks totaled 367 yards on offense, 226 on the ground and 141 in the air.

OOOMPH-Long Beach defenders Rod Lyons, No. 62, Mack Patton, No. 59, and Mark Scaife, No. 55, join the host of Bearcats tackling Pirate quarterback Virgil Swannier in Friday's action as the Pass Christian squad defeated the Bearcats, 19-6. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

The Bay High Tigers was on the road to clash with St. John in a Saturday night game at Milner Stadium in Gulfport. The game took place after Echo press time, and will be reported in Thursday's issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

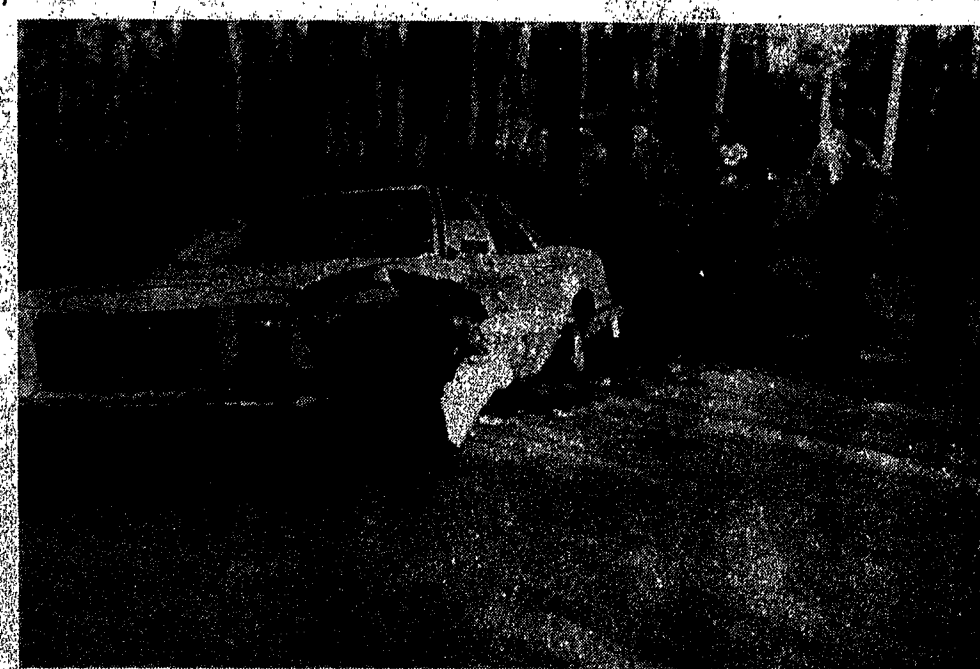

The University of Tennessee Lady Volunteers are an overwhelming favorite receiving over half the first place votes in the pre-season Southern coaches' top 20 basketball poll.

The poll covered teams in Southern states including Louisiana, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

One major reason for high expectations for the Lady Vols is the female athlete heading the list of the top Southern basketball players. Cindy Brogden dominated the balloting for the top five players for the second straight year.

NEW STREET—Hancock County Board 4 Supervisor Sam Peralta, right, and Bay St. Louis Street Superintendent Charlie Black, combine efforts to build a street bisecting the area bounded by Streets Blumark, Gladstone, Ior and Keller to aid development in that area. "When everything is completed for the two-block-long street the cost should total approximately $10,000," said Peralta. The County provides the labor and equipment, and Bay St. Louis provides the material for building the street. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

Nov. 11 opening slated for Waveland Animal Hospital

By RICH ADAMS

A "bone-chewing and milk-lapping ceremony," followed by an open house will mark the opening of the new Waveland Animal Hospital on US-90 Saturday, November 11.

According to Dr. Herbert W. LeBourgeois, owner of the new pet clinic, Waveland Mayor Johnny Longo and City Clerk Barbara Rappold will attend the 10 a.m. opening of the hospital.

The hospital, built by Bay St. Louis contractor Ronnie Artigues and designed by Earl Demarcay, is "a modern prototype building which is virtually fireproof and hurricane resistant."

"At first I thought of building a prefabricated steel structure, but Demarcay convinced me this modern, prototype building would better suit the safety and design criteria I needed," LeBourgeois said.

"I am very pleased with the new building. The hospital satisfies all requirements for me. It is a prototype of the perfect commercial building," said LeBourgeois.

The new facility has 17 rooms, including a surgery room, a radiology and dark room, laboratory, pharmacy, library, and separate wards for dogs and cats.

The rooms all have a ventilation-filtration system which provides fresh air continuously.

There is an intercom which provides constant music throughout the hospital, and a television set is installed in the dog's ward.

"I believe being in the hospital is a stress situation for pets, just as it is for you and I. I try to make the patients here feel as much at home as possible," Dr. LeBourgeois said.

"My aim is to treat client's dogs and cats like they were members of the client's families," he continued.

"The walls are of concrete block with poured concrete and steel rods for support, urethane foam, and concrete stucco. This makes the hospital fireproof and hurricane resistant," LeBourgeois continued.

"This was my main concern, for when a client boards or hospitalizes a pet, I become responsible for a member of the client's family," he added.

Dr. LeBourgeois received his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at Texas

A&M.

He practiced veterinary medicine in Kenner, La., for 10 years, and was a resident of Waveland and Pass Christian between 1945-1950.

LeBourgeois presently resides at 805 North Beach Boulevard in Waveland with his wife and three children.

"I always wanted to return to the coast and practice veterinary medicine, mostly for my children's sake," LeBourgeois said.

The surgery room in the clinic is equipped with all modern sanitary devices.

An isolation ward for pets recovering from infectious diseases is in sight for the future, LeBourgeois said.

The clinic opens Monday, November 13. Appointments are necessary, with regular office hours from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Surgery will be handled from 1-5 p.m. daily, with emergency cases taken anytime.

"I want to invite anybody interested to come to the open house and see the new clinic," LeBourgeois said.

Refreshments will be served at the opening ceremonies Saturday, he added.

Social Security Credit Measure Is Changed

People working in employment or self-employment, covered by social security are earning credit differently this year than they did before 1978, a social security representative said recently.

Social security credits are measured in units called "quarters of coverage." A person's right to benefits is determined by the number of quarters of coverage he or she has. The required number basically depends on a person's date of birth. No one needs credit for more than 40 quarters of coverage—10 years.

Starting in 1978, a person receives credit for one quarter of coverage for each $250 of covered annual earnings up to a maximum of 4 quarters if annual earnings are $1,000 or more. This applies to both employees and self-employed people.

Before 1978, most employees earned one quarter of coverage if they were paid $50 or more in covered wages during a calendar quarter. Self-employed people earned 4 quarters of coverage if their annual net earnings amounted to $400 or more.

In addition, the spokesperson said, the $250 measure will increase each year to take account of increases in average wages in the U.S.

No changes were made in the rules about how many quarters of coverage are required for benefit eligibility.

More information about social security credits and how they are earned can be obtained at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the telephone directory under "Social Security Administration."

Citizens back Mayor Bennett

Dear Sir:

I would like to thank our mayor Larry Bennett for the recent stand he took when our town of Bay St. Louis was threatened with danger on Oct. 30.

Dealing with the L&N Railroad about that tank car leaking naphtha fumes was no easy task.

I am very proud of the strong and firm stand Mayor Bennett took in refusing to let the naphtha tank back in our city.

I am sure the mayor must have had a lot of pressure from others to let that tank back into our Bay, such as officials of Pass Christian and Long Beach trying to get the dangerous tank out of their towns.

But I do believe Mayor Bennett was thinking about all of his people here in the Bay and our safety.

So Mayor Bennett, from one of the citizens of Bay St. Louis, and I'm sure other citizens, thank you mayor, and we support you.

Mrs. Barbara Black

Report from Gulfview Haven

Dear Sir:

On Monday, Oct. 30 our ten a.m. exercises were halted by an authentic-looking tramp - raggedy clothes, derby hat, the proverbial stick with hankie.

He jostled the patients, danced and sat in their laps. His accomplice passed out "Trick or Treat" bags with candy.

It was hilarious and more so when we found out it was our own Mrs. Janet Eadie.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Gaude

off or something," McCullough elaborated, however.

Fred Wagner, architect for Bay Schools, said the contractors cannot be held responsible for the supplies.

"The construction company was bonded, but the bond covers default, not theft," Wagner said.

"An additional policy included on most public projects is a builder's risk insurance policy, which covers building materials. It is my inclination that the supplies, because they were just contents, would not be covered on that policy," he continued.

"If the school cannot collect, they'll have to eat it...if they can collect insurance money, fine," Wagner added.

North Bay PTO President Lana Noonan called the matter "suspicious," and said she isn't getting any answers to her questions.

"The PTO offered to donate $50 to each teacher with which to order new supplies. Some of the parents even offered to drive their personal pickup trucks to Jackson and pick up new supplies to get them down here faster. As far as I know, McCullough never even considered the idea," said Noonan.

"There are first and second graders going to school here without reading and math materials," Noonan said.

"Everybody is so evasive...nobody wants to talk," Mrs. Noonan said.

Sills said he has received inventories on the missing supplies from teachers, adding he had reordered the supplies Friday.

Sills said no federal funds were used to purchase the supplies, only local funds.

North Bay PTO member Judy McCormick said she cannot understand school officials' statements that report of the theft was delayed pending an inventory of missing items.

"Anybody who owns a home or business knows you don't wait until after filling out an inventory before reporting a theft," Ms. McCormick said.

"Mr. McCullough said his credit was good, and we could reorder the supplies...the funds were to come from the school's $42,000 insurance policy. Nobody is talking now...I can't get any answers," she added.

RECOVERY—Sailing a catamaran when the water was unusually rough on the Mississippi Sound Monday, Larry Krueck's boat capsized and his mast got stuck in the mud below. Krueck of Waveland swam nearly three miles to the safety of the beach off Buccaneer State Park. The boat was recovered later that day by the Coast Guard and towed to Bayou Cadet where Krueck paddled it to his trailer. (Staff photo-Leslie Williams)

Judge presents Grand Prize
to Junior Troop Six

The Bay-Waveland Girl Scout Neighborhood celebrated the birthday of Girl Scout founder, Juliette Low at Buccaneer State Park Friday and Saturday, October 27 and 28.

Juliette Low was born October 31, 1880.

Six junior and two cadette troops camped overnight Friday. Saturday eight Brownie troops joined the group for a fun day of activities.

A total of 222 people participated in these events.

A cooking contest highlighted the morning activities on Saturday in which there were eighteen entries. The judges for the contest were Nancy Gex, John Rutherford and Lisa McMurtry of Coast Electric.

The first grade Brownies prepared an uncooked dish.

Troop 476 from Waveland won the grand prize of a cook book for their banana pudding.

Troops 476, 478 and 480 won blue ribbons.

The second and third grade brownies made salads. Troop 122 won a cook book and the Grand Prize for its fresh fruit salad. Troops 351 and 122 were awarded blue ribbons. Troops 129, 478, 314 and 453 received red ribbons.

The Junior troops prepared a one pot hot dish. The Bay Stew which was an original recipe of Troop 6 won the Grand Prize of a propane stove. Troops 6, 97 and 292 won blue ribbons.

The Cadette troops prepared a hot dish meal. Troop 27 won the Grand Prize of a cast iron dutch oven for their Chinese sweet bar-be-que pork chops. Troops 27 and 429 won blue ribbons.

At the end of the day a daisy exchange was held. A daisy was chosen because Juliette Low's nickname was "Daisy." Each girl made a daisy and put her name and address on it. The daisy a girl receives with the name and address on it is her pen pal for the year.

The Girl Scouts will be selling calendars during the month of November. This year the girls will be selling pocket size, as well as the larger ones. The cost of the calendar is 50 cents each. To purchase one, please call Becky Henley at 467-7240.

NOAA, USCG in weather experiment ceremonies

A dockside ceremony at the Gulfport Harbor East Pier at noon Tuesday is scheduled to mark departure of the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter for participation in a Global Weather Experiment.

The public is invited.

Guest speakers will include Jack Barnett, mayor of Gulfport; Rex Fleming, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Project Office director at NSTL; Dave Barnes, meteorologist in charge, National Weather Service in New Orleans; and the Commander of the Eighth Coast Guard District in New Orleans.

Gulf Coast and New Orleans area TV weather forecasters will cover the event.

The Acushnet will be open for public inspection from 11 a.m. to noon. The ship's crew will demonstrate buoy deployment techniques.

The first in a series of 50 weather information-gathering drifting buoys developed by the NOAA Data Buoy Office at NSTL in Hancock County will be deployed in the South Pacific Ocean during the next several months by the Acushnet, scheduled to leave on the mission Wednesday from Gulfport.

The cutter will drop 16 of the buoys at locations between Peru and New Zealand during the three-month, 17,500-mile cruise. An additional 10 buoys will be deployed by the Argentine Navy, while U.S. Navy and Coast Guard vessels supporting Operation Deep Freeze in the South Pole will place the remaining buoys at assigned locations.

The buoys support the Global Weather Experiment, a 140-nation effort to gather weather information in unprecedented amounts and detail from all parts of the globe.

The program begins next month, with the first of two special observations periods when data collection will be the most intense scheduled for January and February of next year.

The buoys carried by the Acushnet will drift free, relaying pressure and temperature information via satellite to GWE scientists.

Each of the expendable buoys weighs about 250 pounds, is spar shaped about 10-feet long, and is made of aluminum. A UHF transmitter on board, in addition to transmitting information from the barometric and temperature sensors, allows the buoy to be tracked by the TIROS-N satellite.

In the Global Weather Experiment, coordinated acquisition of weather data will be accomplished by ships, balloons, satellites, ground observation stations, buoys, and scientific and commercial aircraft on transoceanic flights.

Approximately 300 drifting buoys from participating countries will be deployed in the Southern Hemisphere where there are insufficient weather observations and where persistent cloudiness interferes with the remote acquisition of sea surface temperature and pressure by orbiting satellites.

U.S. support of the experiment is the responsibility of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), an element of the Commerce Department.

Its Data Buoy Office, part of the Office of Ocean Engineering, developed and produced the 50 buoys which comprise the U.S. commitment to that portion of the experiment.

The NOAA Data Buoy Office was selected for this task, because of its experience in advanced buoy technology, including the development, testing, and evaluation of both moored and drifting buoys.

The office also coordinates the associated drifting buoy logistics field personnel training and liaison support with allied governments and agencies.

WANDA LADNER AND DUON LADNER

Mississippi Garden Club offers fall gardening tips

MRS. C.F. WOOD
Horticulture Chairman

November is a good month to plant bulbs in containers and forcing them to flower in mild winter. Fill a container that has holes for drainage, with soil mix. Space bulbs one-half to one inch apart and cover with one-half inch of soil. It is not necessary to cover the long neck on daffodils.

With tulips the flat side of the bulb should face the outside of the pot. It is this side from which the first leaf appears. One or several bulbs can be planted in a container.

After potting they need to be kept moist. The bulbs must be given a period of chilling. Place them in a utility room, unheated garage or coldframe for about six weeks. After that time, a good root system should have developed. Bring the container indoors to a cool sunny location and keep the soil moist. Within a few weeks the foliage and flower will appear.

Pansies set out in October and November bloom profusely all winter and spring. During cold periods, pansies aren't at their best, but they snap back with more vivid color as soon as temperatures rise above freezing again.

Grow pansies in masses, in full sun and fertile, well drained soil. Set plants no more than 4 to 6 inches apart. Apply a light mulch of rotted sawdust, compost or shredded leaves to help protect the plants against killing frost.

If you planted pansies last month, give them a light feeding of 12-12-0 fertilizer. Check plants for aphids and caterpillars. Use malathion to control aphids and Sevin for caterpillars.

There is still time to plant such bulbs as daffodils, hyacinths, Dutch iris and crocus. Tulp bulbs that have been refrigerated for six weeks can be planted late this month.

By the middle of the month begin planting roses, shrubs, perennial vines and young trees, both ornamental and shade. Shrubs, roses and trees planted this month will begin making root growth during the warm periods of winter and will be established by spring.

Begin mowing newly planted ryegrass as soon as it is three inches high.

Cut chrysanthemum plants back to within four to six inches from the ground after the first killing frost.

Cut back dahlias to within two to four inches of the ground immediately after the first killing frost. Allow plants to remain in the ground for about a week. Dig the tubers and wash them; allow them to dry in the shade for a day or two. Store tubers over the winter by covering them with peat moss or by wrapping them individually with newspaper. Do not allow them to freeze.

Dig caladium bulbs as soon as the leaves have died back or after the first light frost. Remove as much of the soil as you can without rubbing. Dry bulbs in the sun until clinging soil and leaves can be easily removed. Wrap bulbs in dividually in newspaper or pack in sawdust or dry peat moss. Store in a dry place. November is a good time to have the soil in your garden tested for fertilizer needs. Contact your county agent for information about collecting samples and where to send them.

YOU AND YOUR PET

The most popular pet in America today seems to be the large dog.

Commercial and private breeders can hardly supply enough puppies to fill the demand for German shepherds, boxers and other imposing breeds to guard homes and apartments.

Unfortunately, this demand is leading to careless selection of breeding stock by some suppliers. As a result, a condition called congenital hip dysplasia is showing up with increasing frequency.

Hip dysplasia is a hereditary disease involving improper development of the ball-and-socket joint of the hip.

If the socket is too shallow or the ball too flat, a misshapen joint which tends to come out of place is produced. Mild cases result in varying degrees of lameness. Severe cases cause the hip to fall completely out of the socket, so the dog can hardly walk at all. Arthritis can accompany the condition as the dog grows older.

The disease is most common in large and medium-sized breeds - the German shepherd, St. Bernard, golden retriever, boxer and Great Dane. The cause is genetic, but very rapid growth, unbalanced diet and other factors may aggravate the condition.

Among certain breeds, a majority of animals are affected by some degree of hip dysplasia.

Signs of hip dysplasia are not always immediately obvious in a young pup. The lameness and exaggerated toing-out may not appear until the dog is three to six months old, and is already accepted as a member of the household.

As the disease progresses, the dog will show increasing reluctance to stand, and may sit with the hind legs stretched out to one side at an unnatural angle.

When the dog does move, it may have an abnormal walk, with pronounced swaying of the hindquarters.

If your pet shows signs of lameness, make an appointment to see your veterinarian. With the help of an X-ray, he or she will decide if the cause of the lameness is hip dysplasia or just a temporary injury.

If your dog does have hip dysplasia, your veterinarian can suggest several alternatives. In mild cases, pain relievers, rest and limited exercise will make your pet more comfortable.

If you wish, your veterinarian may be able to suggest an orthopedic surgeon to evaluate your dog and decide if surgery would help.

In younger pets, where arthritis has not yet appeared, the hip can sometimes be reconstructed by surgery. In older pets, surgery may reduce pain and irritation, even though it will not restore the dog's normal walk.

To avoid hip dysplasia, ask to see the parents, if possible, before selecting a shepherd or other large puppy.

Also, examine the other puppies in the litter, since some affected animals show symptoms earlier than the others. Since 1966, some kennels have been registering their breeding stock with the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals, which certifies that they are dysplasia-free.

Puppies from O.F.A. registered stock have a greatly reduced chance of getting the disease. If your pet does develop hip dysplasia, you should not use it for breeding purposes, since this will only pass the trait on to another generation of dogs. Spaying or neutering of dysplastic dogs is definitely recommended.

CHUCK MANGIONE

The 6,500 seats at Washington's Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts near Washington, D.C., were sold out weeks in advance this summer for "An Evening with Chuck Mangione," and public television viewers throughout the country shared the event through a live telecast. The special will be rebroadcast at 9 p.m., Saturday, November 11, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Coast legislator seeks area council on higher education

Representative Gerald Blessey of Harrison County has drafted a bill for the 1979 legislative session to create a Mississippi Gulf Coast Council on Higher Education.

"This Council will have the duty of developing a full senior level and graduate school level of opportunities for higher education right here in the three Coast counties," Blessey stated.

"Our Gulf Coast economy needs the economic stimulation that comes from industries and businesses that cluster in urban areas that have institutions of higher learning, especially around those institutions that have scientific and technical departments for research and development," he added.

"The Mississippi Gulf Coast is the only standard metropolitan statistical area in the nation without a full grown university to serve its people and to stimulate economic growth in technical fields," Blessey pointed out.

"Look at the computer industry near Stanford and other California universities," Blessey said.

"The future of economic development in this country lies in a composite of higher education, research and development, a job-hungry skilled work force, good climate, water, energy, and far-sighted leadership. Higher education leads all the way to all the other elements," he continued.

"Keesler Air Force Base, as the electronics training center for the U.S. Air Force presents a marvelous resource for the establishment of electronics related industries—but the State of Mississippi should capitalize on this opportunity for retaining in this area trained technicians, military and civilian, by establishing the research, development and academic institutions which would produce the reservoir of experts and the base of skilled labor to attract electronics-related industries." Blessey's bill calls for a council of 25 members from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties to produce by July 1, 1981, a 20-year plan for higher education in the Gulf Coast.

Members of the Council as proposed would be:

The Dean of the Gulf Park branch of the University of Southern Mississippi; The director of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory;

The president of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College; The superintendent of each municipal separate school district and each county school district within the counties of Harrison, Hancock and Jackson;

Executive secretary of the board of trustees of institutions of higher learning; The president of the board of trustees for the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College District;

The president of the student body of the Gulf Park Branch of the University of Southern Mississippi;

President of the student body of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Jefferson Davis campus;

The president of the student body of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Jackson County campus;

A representative of the faculty selected by the majority of the faculty from the Jefferson Davis campus of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College;

A representative of the faculty selected by a majority of the faculty at the Jackson County campus of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College;

A representative of the faculty selected by a majority of the faculty at the Gulf Park branch of the University of Southern Mississippi;

A representative of the faculty selected by a majority of the faculty at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

One member selected from each of the following political subdivisions by the governing body of each political subdivision, who shall be selected for a term of four (4) years with the first term beginning on the first day of July, 1979:

1. Hancock County
2. Harrison County
3. Jackson County
4. The City of Bay St. Louis
5. The City of Biloxi

Power company officials meet with Citizens

Representatives of Mississippi Power Co. presented an energy conservation program Tuesday night at the St. Rose De Lima school to a joint meeting of Concerned Citizens and Veterans Civic Organization.

Speaking for the power company was Perry Gibson, Bay St. Louis manager. A film titled "Mr. Edison's Dilemma" was shown, followed by a question and answer session.

Subjects included the fuel problem, environmental considerations, inflation, supply rate, leveled billing, organization and Southern Company stock.

Handbooks titled "Energy Management" and "51 Most Asked Questions of the Electric Industry" were presented to each person present and are available at Mississippi Power, Bay St. Louis.

Representing the power company in addition to Gibson were Bill Nunnery and Lou Oucci, sales engineers from Gulfport.

"Some of our people have thus decided to go into leveling the billing. This meeting showed that there are appliances in every home that are not always necessary and may be eliminated to conserve energy, and consequently lower utility bills. If we could have more meetings of this kind, it could help us solve our utilities' problems," said Geraldine Lang, Concerned Citizens secretary.

STARVATION

"Global Papers," a new ETV world affairs series, covers the questions of worldwide starvation in a three-part "paper" beginning at 7 p.m., Sunday, November 12, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Part one on Sunday focuses primarily on the world's chronically undernourished—the some 500 million people in Latin America, Asia and Africa for whom hunger is a constant companion or an ever-present possibility—and their attempts to solve the problem.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

Above-median rainfall and near-normal temperatures are expected in Mississippi in November, according to the National Weather Service Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Rainfall probabilities will increase and many locations will receive more than their usual amounts of about four inches in the south and four to five inches in the north.

Temperatures averaging in the lower 70s for highs and in the mid-40s for lows will cool eight to 10 degrees toward December, say agrometeorologists at the Environmental Studies Service Center in Stoneville, who prepare the forecasts. By mid-November, all areas except the extreme south will experience a first fall freeze. One of the finest harvest seasons in years has allowed cotton producers to almost complete picking.

The soybean crop is about two-thirds in and ahead of schedule. Good harvesting weather in the first week of November will allow bean combining to near completion. Cotton producers will have ample time to scrap and cut stalks to help control boll weevils next year.

Dry weather will keep small grain planting at a standstill for at least another week, say agrometeorologists. Once moisture is received, small grains should grow well in near-normal temperatures.

Many cattlemen will have to rely on supplemental feed for another week or two, but experts forecast good prospects for forage growth during the last half of November.

Poultrymen can expect to use the usual amounts of fuel to heat poultry houses. Rain may be a frequent problem in the last half of the month, with rapid cooling following rains.

BROILERS

BROILER-TYPE
Hatcheries in the State set 6,146,000 eggs for broiler chicks during the week ending October 28, 1978, 22 percent above the previous week and 14 percent above the 5,375,000 set the corresponding week a year ago.

There were 5,444,000 broiler chicks placed on Mississippi farms during the week ending October 28, 1978, three percent above the previous week and 12 percent above the 4,858,000 placed the corresponding week a year ago.

Cumulative placements for 1978 are 237,898,000 broiler chicks - six percent above a year earlier.

EGG-TYPE
Hatcheries in the State set 308,000 eggs for egg-type chicks during the week ending October 28, 1978, 12 percent above the previous week and 31 percent above the 235,000 set during the comparable week a year ago. Hatch of egg-type chicks was 245,000, four percent below the 256,000 hatched during the comparable week a year ago.

In the five states that accounted for about 25 percent of the hatch of all egg-type chicks in the U.S. in 1977, settings during the week ending October 28, 1978 were down 3 percent and hatchings were down 11 percent from a year ago.

ASCS Hancock-Pearl River

NOMINATION BY PETITION

Farm voter petitions for ASC Committee election candidates are now being received in the county ASCS office.

Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director, says farm programs need to be managed by a hardworking team of ASCS committeemen.

Farmers should nominate individuals they feel would be good members of the ASCS Farm Committee by October 30.

Only a few days remain to nominate farmers as candidates in the upcoming ASC Community Committee Elections, Gennin said.

First duty of the newly elected community committee members will be to serve as delegates to elect new members of the county ASCS committee.

Gennin reminds producers that this is an important occasion for the responsible, farmer-chosen team of ASC community committee members who will help administer government programs.

The ASC community committee election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 24 to Dec. 4. By turning in a total of six or more petitions, farmers in each ASC community have the opportunity to prepare the slate of nominees themselves.

The County Committee hopes that farmers will submit enough valid petitions to fill the slate.

Shortly after Oct. 30, all petitions will be reviewed. If six or more valid petitions have been received for an ASC community, the county ASCS office will prepare a slate containing the names of all eligible nominees.

If less than six valid petitions are received for any ASC community, the incumbent community committee will add nominees needed to complete the slate.

In order to submit a valid petition, three or more ASC farm voters must sign a statement endorsing an eligible candidate. The statement must include certification that the nominee will serve if elected.

Petitions must be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASCS office no later than Nov. 1.

The opportunity to nominate, vote, and be elected to office in the upcoming ASC community election is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color, or national origin.

USDA ANNOUNCES 1979 ACP A $190 million 1979 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) that emphasizes rural pollution abatement and soil, water and woodland conservation was announced today by Weldon Denny, Acting Administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

TO REMAIN NUMBER ONE

The president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation - Hugh M. Arant of Ruleville - believes that the degeneration of the United States, now with many characteristics of a second-rate country, can and should be turned around by citizens becoming more involved in their guaranteed responsibilities.

His thoughts were published this month as a guest editorial in the American Farm Bureau Federation's leadership newspaper, the FARM BUREAU NEWS, with a circulation of 53,738 throughout the United States and even Puerto Rico. Here are some of the highlights of that thought provoking article.

"Those of us who have never lived in a second-rate country find it hard to believe that we are beginning to see just such a situation developing. We remember a country with the strongest currency, the most powerful military, the largest production per worker, and generally the best in every area considered. But no more!

"Consider the dollar. Long it has been the benchmark for all other currencies of the world, but no longer. The yen and mark currencies of those countries defeated in World War II, are now in the driver's seat.

"Failure of country to have an energy policy has led to the drain on the dollar with payments for imported oil products. Failure to control inflation helps no one. Massive social programs and government regulatory programs have reduced the dollar to its lowest level ever - and mostly as a result of actions of our executive, legislative and judicial branches of federal government."

Tax break talk, Arant said, is political window dressing. He said there is no way to get out of debt except to pay the bill, however a reduction in spending would be a big step. Worsening the situation, the Federal Bureau leader advised, is the fact that 80 percent of the federal budget already is committed by previous authorizations of Congress, so that any savings must come from the remaining 20 percent. He reported that inflation is not being slowed down despite manipulation of the wholesale price index by economic planners.

The military decline of the country has been accentuated by such things as the recent veto of the defense appropriations bill and change of policy on such projects as the B-1 bomber and the nuclear aircraft carrier, and foot-dragging on others such as the MX mobile missile and neutron artillery warhead. Giving away the Panama Canal may be added to the list of military retreats.

Arant faulted the attitude of American workers whose output per hour has been a major factor in the inflationary spiral - yet, he said, a worker cannot help but be discouraged when he looks at the tax deductions coming out of his paycheck and realizes that he works over six months just to pay taxes.

The crucial answer, Arant feels, lies in citizenship involvement - both by voter registration and widespread personal acceptance of accompanying responsibilities. Many politicians and bureaucrats, he said, have become adept at finding ways to perpetuate themselves in office at the expense of the national welfare. Thus the awakening of basic values in this nation must come at the local level and be spread in such a way that it will be heard across the land.

Arant said citizens must both register and then take time to vote and realize that their votes do count as evidenced by some important elections have been won by one or two votes. He chastized citizens who do not register for fear of jury duty, and he further slapped those who sought medical excuses from jury service as a disservice toward a basic right guaranteed by the Constitution.

"Don't be afraid, but embrace these rights and help make this a better country," he said as he then asked, "who laws when the time will come that you or one of your loved ones will be facing a decision made by a jury? Do you want it to be made by those who may not be able to make an intelligent decision?"

"For the good of your state and nation," Arant urged, "I encourage you to become a registered voter and see that your family and friends do the same, and then do your part in preserving our great land by voting for America."

MAKE QUICK AND EASY JELLY FROM CANNED OR FROZEN FRUIT JUICE

Homemade jelly is a wonderful treat that needn't take hours in the kitchen to make, according to the home economists at the Ball Corporation. In fact, it can even be made without fresh fruit - a good thing to keep in mind during those times of the year when fruit is abundant.

Fruit juices are excellent for making jelly. Just remember that if you use commercially canned or frozen juices, commercial pectin will be needed. Try this simple and delicious recipe for grape jelly developed in the Ball kitchen.

GRAPE JELLY

4-1/2 cups sugar
2-1/2 cups water
1 bottle liquid pectin
3 6-ounce cans (2-1/4 cups)
Frozen concentrated grape juice

Stir the sugar into the water. Place on high heat and, stirring constantly, bring quickly to a full rolling boil that cannot be stirred down. Boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in the pectin. Add thawed concentrated grape juice and mix well. Pour immediately into hot canning jars and seal. Yield: about 8-9 eight-ounce glasses.

Old crop corn stored in all positions on October 1 totaled 445,000 bushels, 46 percent below a year earlier. Farm stocks totaled 346,000 bushels while off-farm stocks were 99,000.

Farm stocks of old crop sorghum grain totaled 1,000 bushels on October 1. This is 6,000 bushels below last year's October 1 farm stocks. Sorghum grain stocks, off-farm and in all positions, were not published to avoid disclosing individual operations.

Farm storage of all wheat stocks totaled 119,000 bushels, 44 percent below a year earlier. All wheat stocks, off-farm and in all positions, were not published to avoid disclosing individual operations.

UNITED STATES

On October 1, 1978, wheat stocks totaled 57.4 million metric tons, 12 percent less than last year's record high 65.3 million MT. Stocks of the four feed grains amounted to 51.5 million MT, 19 percent above a year ago. Individual crop comparisons show corn up 20 percent, sorghum up 109 percent, oats down three percent, and barley up 15 percent.

Old crop corn stored in all positions on October 1 totaled 709 billion bushels, up 20 percent from last year and the highest since October 1, 1972. Of the total old crop corn, 55 percent was stored on farms. Disappearance June through September was 1.74 billion bushels, up 17 percent from the comparable period last year.

Sorghum grain in all storage positions on October 1, 1978, totaled 191 million bushels, 109 percent more than a year earlier and 271 percent more than for the same date in 1973. Farm stocks totaled over 56.4 million bushels and off-farm holdings were 134 million bushels, up 161 and 93 percent, respectively, from October 1, 1977. Disappearance from all storage positions during June through September is indicated at 129 million bushels, 23 percent more than the disappearance during the same period in 1977.
